

School has arrived and signals the return of the JA Fellows, the premiere entrepreneurship & leadership program for high school students! The 2008/2009 school year was a fantastic one for us: the program was featured on CNN, members of JA Fellows were awarded thousands of dollars in college scholarships & JA Fellows companies nearly swept the North American JA Company of the Year Awards. We're currently accepting applications at www.jafellows.com for 2009-2010 until Sept. 30th. This is a game-changing opportunity for any high school students that you may know!

Why Should Someone Become a JA Fellow?
